National Restaurant Association
Educational Foundation

 2023 COLLEGIATE
PROSTART
PASSPORT

The National ProStart Collegiate Passport includes information about post-secondary schools that offer college credit and/or scholarships to ProStart students who have earned the ProStart National Certificate of Achievement (COA).

The credits and scholarships listed in the Passport are available to any ProStart student with a COA, regardless of residence, although out-of-state tuition may apply.

How to use The Passport

If you're a ProStart student who will have a COA by the time you're ready for college, a lot of doors — in a lot of different places — are open to you! Check out the following pages and you'll see a wide variety of schools across the country that are eager to enroll ProStart students with COAs. Don't hesitate to reach out to the schools that sound like a good fit to get more information. They're interested in talking with you!

Things to keep in mind:

- The credits and scholarships listed in the Passport are for ProStart students who have earned the COA. For more information about how to do that, talk with your ProStart teacher or visit www.ChooseRestaurants.org. Click here to learn more about the COA.
- When you earn your COA, be sure to make copies of it to enclose with school applications and other records. Your COA has a unique number so it can be verified.
- Reach out to the contact listed in the Passport for any schools that interest you and set up a time to talk. Ask questions about the school and program(s) that interest you. Do this as soon as you can — even as a sophomore or junior in high school.
- To receive the credits and scholarships noted in this Passport, you must apply, be admitted and enroll (“matriculate”) at the school.
- Tell people you're ProStart! Note that you are a ProStart student who is earning/has earned a COA on all of your applications, resumes, essays and other documents.
- Apply for any scholarships available to COA students from your schools of choice and NRAEF. Just because you have a COA and a school offers special COA scholarships doesn't mean you'll automatically receive one. You have to apply — and that means completing all required paperwork, correctly, by the deadline.
- To succeed in college, you have to be able to manage a lot of demands on your time. Demonstrate you are independent enough by taking charge of the application process. Complete and submit your college and scholarship applications. These aren't things your teacher or your parents should do for you.
- Once you've been accepted, reach out to the contact again to let them know you'll be enrolling and find out what else you need to do to take advantage of the benefits offered to COA students.

The people who can help you prepare for college.

You need to take charge of your college plans...
But that doesn't mean you need to do it alone.

Ask for help from a variety of people:

- Your parents. You need their guidance and advice. And you'll need them to fill out the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) as early as October during your senior year in high school (visit <https://studentaid.gov> for more information).
- Your ProStart teacher. They can provide invaluable advice about colleges, scholarships and jobs. Many college and scholarship applications ask for letters of reference, so ask your teacher if they are willing to write one for you.
- Your high school counselor. If your school has a counseling office, make an appointment to talk about your plans after high school. Counselors often have great information about colleges and scholarship opportunities and they are a great resource for tips about how to write successful essays, complete applications, etc.
- Your mentor/supervisor. Request a few minutes to talk when the restaurant isn't slammed. Share your plans for after high school — even if they are not solid — and ask for advice and suggestions.
- Friends who are already in college. Ask them what they like and what's been challenging. Ask them if

Other Resources:

- The internet. Check out the sites for organizations and companies that support ProStart, your high school and the colleges you're interested in. For example, the NRAEF website — ChooseRestaurants.org — has information about applying for NRAEF scholarships. Be sure to complete your application and submit it by the deadline!
- Consider the location of a college, too. Things like size, location, weather, distance from home and geography (beach? mountains or plains? Urban or rural? Hot or cold? Snow or rain?) can impact how well you fit at a school. Read the section "About ..." and visit school websites to see if you can imagine yourself living in a particular place.

A letter from the president

Dear ProStart Students,

Having worked in education and the culinary arts for many years, I know firsthand how valuable a college education can be on the path to success. As you look for a school that will help you achieve your dreams, here are a few recommendations to help you along the way:

Learn about the curriculum. Look for a program that will give you technical skills, critical thinking skills and an ability to move through a complicated industry with grace. Employers are always looking to hire individuals with the potential to impact their business on multiple fronts.

Learn about the faculty. No matter which area of restaurant management or culinary arts you pursue, you certainly want to learn from instructors who have both educational and professional experience. To learn about a school's instructors, look for a faculty bio section on the institution's website.

Learn about the students and graduates. Are they happy and successful? This is important because your fellow students will be one of your most valuable networks. By asking questions about the most popular clubs on campus and the companies that frequently recruit from an institution, you can learn a lot about the personality of a school.

As you evaluate culinary and management schools, try to schedule a campus visit. Ultimately, you want to find a program that fits your career plans and your personality. Visiting campuses will give you a sense of how each school measures up to your expectations in the areas above.

Good luck!

Paul Lussow
President
Kendall College

Schools

Some of the schools included in the Passport have more than one campus. In these cases, you'll find a separate page for each campus that recognizes the ProStart COA. This will help you recognize the geographical options you have for college.

About The School:

The American Academy of Culinary Arts (AACA) at Pittsburgh Technical College is where many talented chefs have launched successful careers. At AACA, we set a higher standard for our students, and our numbers speak for themselves — 100% of available PTC Culinary Arts associate degree grads are working in the culinary field.* Not interested in an associate's degree? PTC offers certificates in Baking & Pastry and Culinary Arts as well.

Our hands-on program gives you the opportunity to develop your creativity while putting a unique emphasis on the fundamentals. You'll master the basics from knife skills and cooking methods and build on every class to round out your expertise with skills from menu design and pricing to wine matching. You'll master American regional cuisine and explore flavors and techniques of cuisines from around the world. Then you'll apply everything you've learned in a capstone class where you'll create the senior luncheon, guided by the head Chef.

We also take you beyond the classroom and into real kitchens. Students in our associate degree program gain hands-on industry experience during an in-field internship, where they apply what they've learned and figure out where they fit in.

For us, getting students into careers they love is what matters most. That's why our Career Services staff goes above and beyond most colleges to work with you from day one of your education on your job search and help find you take your place along fellow AACA alumni in restaurants, gourmet kitchens, resorts, hotels, country clubs, and other venues. Are you ready to join them?

About The School:

At The Art Institute of Atlanta, we don't train cooks. We prepare students to become culinary professionals. We help turn their passion for the culinary arts into the marketable skills they'll need. We teach the cooking and business fundamentals they'll use throughout their career, while exposing them to more than 20 world cuisines — from Caribbean to Korean, Mexican to Middle Eastern. Traditional French and other European foods. Greek, Asian, African, South American, Indian. And more.

There's something else unique about The Art Institute of Atlanta: the creative energy that flows through our hallways, classrooms and kitchens—an energy that inspires our culinary students. In our associate degree programs, students learn foundational cooking skills and study international cuisines. Our bachelor's degree program is more like a business degree with a food concentration. Our instructors bring relevant experience to the student-run innovative restaurant, adding layers of reality to the learning. Beyond the kitchen, students can get involved in culinary activities and competitions. Various scholarship opportunities are also available.

We expect our students to work hard, master the fundamentals, and commit themselves to their craft. It isn't easy, because it's not easy out in the real world of culinary. But when students are ready to graduate, our career services staff helps them prepare to launch a career where they can do what they love, for life.

About The School:

Helms College traces its roots to Goodwill and its founder Rev. Edgar J. Helms. He believed that individuals wanted and needed a hand up, not a hand out, and his basic philosophy set the vision since 1902. Through its outreach efforts, Goodwill Industries believes that work is better caught than taught, and it provides opportunities for individuals to “catch” a solid work ethic. Through work, individuals are enabled to assume the role of the worker in addition to other roles within the community. Work forms a cornerstone on a person’s relationship with other people and is critical for preventing and minimizing social problems.

To this end, the faculty, staff and administration at Helms College believe that access to quality, affordable education and relevant hands-on experience are the first steps to career and personal success. As a result, the development and maintenance of training programs and related service focus upon maximizing career opportunities and improving the lives of individuals by giving them the skills they need for success in the workforce.

Helms College is committed to bringing together appropriate staff, curricula, physical facilities, instructional equipment and other components to deliver an exceptional educational experience. Through its student-centered focus, Helms College helps individuals to successfully achieve their educational objectives in order to enable them to lead more fulfilling lives. Helms College promotes student access and progress and its philosophy of student learning and development is embedded in all of the programs it offers.

College Culinary Arts students can expect quick job placement and rapid advancement in Montana or anywhere in the world.

About The School:

The International Culinary Institute of Myrtle Beach is committed to technical training and postsecondary education in culinary arts and the hospitality industry. Core values of continuous improvement, ethics and respect drive our department's quest for culinary excellence, professionalism, innovation and peer recognition. We are dedicated to excellence in education through a learner-centered approach that fulfills the evolving needs of our students and the marketplace. We are a small school that is investing in the future. In classes students work in small groups so they do not get lost in the crowd. We take pride in reaching students at all levels and instill in them a high level of professionalism. In our program we do not cooking for the students, the class cooks for themselves and the instructor so we can focus on techniques and critiques. Our students also cook for the public. We have an open kitchen public restaurant that provides real world, hands-on experience. We like to compare our restaurant to a small-chef owned restaurant that is friendly, gets to know its customers, and cares about where our food comes from. We are passionate about cooking and the ingredients. We believe quality education involves excellent curriculum, faculty, raw materials and facilities. It means delivering curriculum and life skills to students of all levels in a passionate, articulate and caring manner. It means maintaining high standards, and helping students to achieve those standards. Community and professional involvement both locally and nationally provide networking opportunities for students. We provide an education that builds a strong foundation for students and will offer involvement in extracurricular activities and community events.

You'll learn from award-winning instructors in the college's new state-of-the-art kitchen facilities. Experiences are provided in all aspects of cooking and baking, with a combination of formal classes and extensive lab experience. Approximately half of each day is spent applying knowledge in the kitchen or bakery, developing and practicing your culinary skills. As a graduate, you'll be prepared to earn your personal certification from the ACF and work in a variety of venues, including fine dining restaurants, hotels, clubs, resorts and bakeries.

About The School:

The Kirkwood Community College Culinary Arts program is training the culinary leaders of tomorrow in an environment unlike any other. Students learn culinary arts in a real-world setting where they get hands-on training and gain practical experience in management, food preparation, and service.

In the classroom, passionate and talented faculty give learners the knowledge and latest techniques to thrive in the exciting world of culinary arts. Students then apply what they have learned while working in The Class Act, an elegant full-service restaurant at The Hotel at Kirkwood Center, a AAA-rated Four Diamond establishment. The restaurant features fine dining for hotel and conference center guests, Kirkwood staff, and the public. Students assist in the daily operation of The Class Act Restaurant which includes planning, preparing, and servicing catered events at The Kirkwood Center during their last semester.

Other learning opportunities available to students include site visits to various food service establishments and an optional trip to the industry's national convention. Hospitality-specific international travel and education opportunities are available to Culinary Arts, Hospitality Management, and Baking and Pastry Arts students.

This program is fully accredited at the Exemplary status by the American Culinary Federation Education Foundation Accrediting Commission.

About The School:

Louisiana Culinary Institute (LCI) is one of the premier culinary schools in the country. LCI is family owned and operated in a 40,000 sq. ft. state-of-the-art-facility. LCI is approved by the American Culinary Federation (ACF) and has partnered with dozens of restaurants, hotels, bakeries, cruise lines, and culinary establishments around the globe. The goal is to maintain the quality over the quantity of the students because LCI believes in smaller size classrooms with a healthy student to teacher ratio. LCI supports ProStart 100%, focusing on mentor-ship and professional development while creating opportunities needed for the future. Partnering with Augusta National for the Masters golf tournament, creating television shows with Cooking Channel, working with local farmers and the American Pavilion at the Cannes Film Festival are just a few of the relationships and opportunities LCI can provide for students. LCI has a supportive Admissions Team, Job Placement Department, Student Services and a number of graduates/alumni who have become award winning chefs and business owners. LCI has also established the not for profit LCI Foundation which creates need based scholarships and feeds local food banks and shelters. We welcome and invite friends and family to tour the campus and see if LCI is the right fit for you.

About The School:

Culinary Arts students train in our state-of-the-art nearly 50,000-square-foot kitchens with professional-grade equipment under the tutelage of credentialed chefs. Students gain restaurant experience in the college's onsite gourmet dining room, preparing and serving four-course meals to the public. Each year students have the opportunity to compete and make professional connections by participating in American Culinary Federation-sanctioned competitions.

Madison College is a world-class community college in Madison, Wisconsin. For more than 105 years, Madison College has equipped students with the knowledge and skills Wisconsin employers demand by providing hands-on training that mirrors real-world experiences, offering them innovative, high-tech career programs and college transfer opportunities.

The college's new culinary facilities were completed in 2016. Students now learn in kitchen facilities modeled after professional restaurants. They can observe lessons in a demonstration kitchen similar to what you'd see on a cooking show. They also have access to a butchery room and amenities that include a steam injection deck oven, a cold and hot smoker, and more.

Madison Area Technical College helps students with job placement through established partnerships in the local and regional business community. One-hundred percent of Madison College culinary arts graduates consistently find work within six months.

At SUNY Cobleskill you can turn your dreams into reality and expand your horizons in our cutting-edge facilities including a working 200-head dairy farm, a 40,000 gallon cold water fish hatchery, hydroponic greenhouses and more. Our outstanding facilities produce research, services and even products that have real-world value. SUNY Cobleskill's range of programs tailor-made for you include the Food Systems and Technology bachelor degree program, designed to respond to the growing demand for professionals who understand the processes, businesses and policies that get food from farm to plate all over the world. Theory and practice are combined in exciting courses taught by award-winning chefs, business executives, agricultural economics specialists, management experts and more. With an average of just 20 students in each class, and a student-to-faculty ratio of 18:1, you'll have greater access to your professors than you'd have at other schools and they'll give you the attention and encouragement you need to succeed. SUNY Cobleskill's professors are actual leaders in their fields, which means you'll be learning about what's happening right now, in the real world. Success isn't just about what you learn; it's also about how you learn. Inside and outside the classroom, you'll participate in group projects, field studies, in-service training, presentations, simulations and internships, with personal interaction and learning-by-doing that is the core of a SUNY Cobleskill education.

About The School:

Why not study hospitality management at an international destination where more than million tourists come to vacation each year? The resort of Hilton Head Island, the growing area of Bluffton, and the historic city of Beaufort attract visitors from around the world, providing a unique opportunity for students to study hospitality management in a real-life learning laboratory. A variety of internships and employment opportunities are available for students and graduates in the South Carolina Lowcountry. Tourism research and the Center for Event Management and Hospitality Training offer students scholarly pursuits that are unique to the coastal region USCB serves. In January of 2019 the University of South Carolina Beaufort opened its new state-of-the-art Hospitality Management facility on Hilton Head Island. The new facility includes a demonstration kitchen and beverage lab as well as seminar and hospitality management classrooms. It serves junior and senior hospitality management majors in the heart of Hilton Head Island. Study, Work, and Play at the Hilton Head Island Campus!
